Environment

Hockaday is acres and acres of brick buildings, glass hallways, sandy playgrounds, and sunny terraces. But without students, it is an empty greenhouse awaiting the great variety of special plants that it nurtures. It is the unique environment where growth takes place. The campus is made up of many buildings — the extensive library, the science center, the athletic complex, the residence halls, the classrooms, the new Lower School, and the remodeled dining room. There are special places outdoors, also. The teardrop garden is always a favorite place to spend a study hall, and the playground is where younger girls relax. The school exists to promote growth, with the cornerstones as guidelines. The experiences of each student on the campus influence the direction of her growth; and without such extensive facilities, many of these experiences would not be possible. In the past three years, Hockaday itself has grown. First, in 1983 the Science Center and Lecture Hall were completed. Then in 1984 the Ashley Priddy Lower School met the need for more growing room for the younger daisies. And this year saw the completion of a remodeled dining room and Tarry House. All of these additions to the campus have allowed a broader range of courses and services to be offered to the growing Hockaday students.

Growth

The faculty and the curriculum act as gardeners and nutrients to aid the growth of students at Hockaday. Each part of the curriculum is designed to develop a specific part of the total student. Teachers are interested in the growth of their students; they not only teach girls how to study, but they also train them to think for themselves. The special individualized care that each "plant" receives facilitates student growth. When trouble occurs, a faculty "gardener" nurtures the student with special care. The willingness of faculty to give of their time is an important feature of Hockaday.

The curriculum is designed to promote well-rounded growth. In Lower School, painting, reading, math, singing, French or Spanish, and physical fitness are the staples of the curriculum. Through these activities, special talents are discovered.

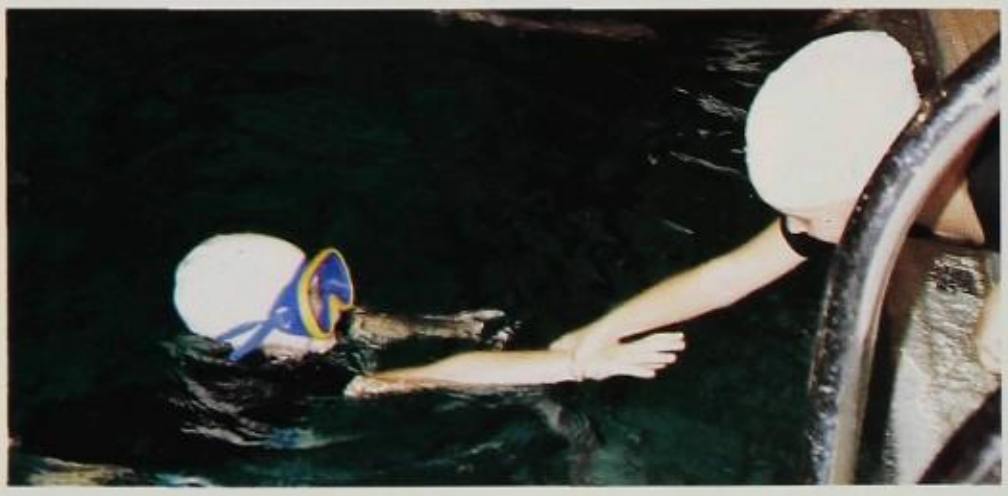
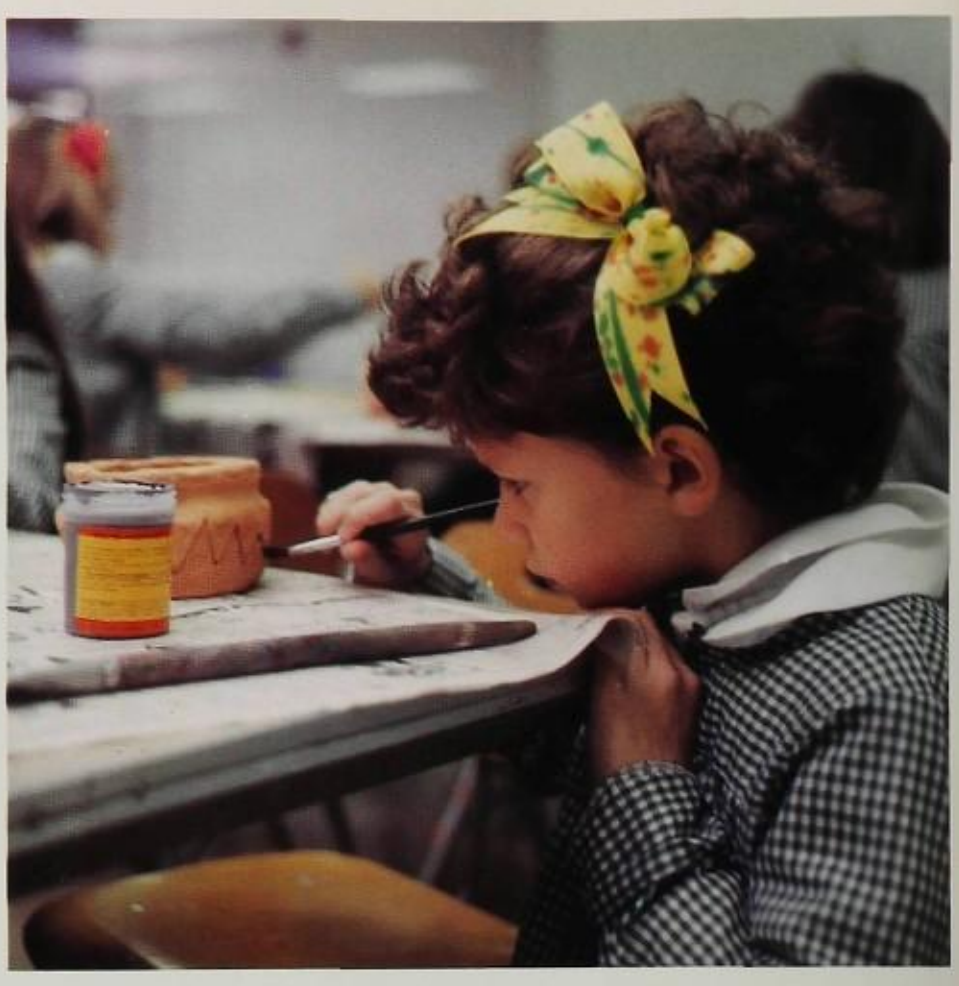
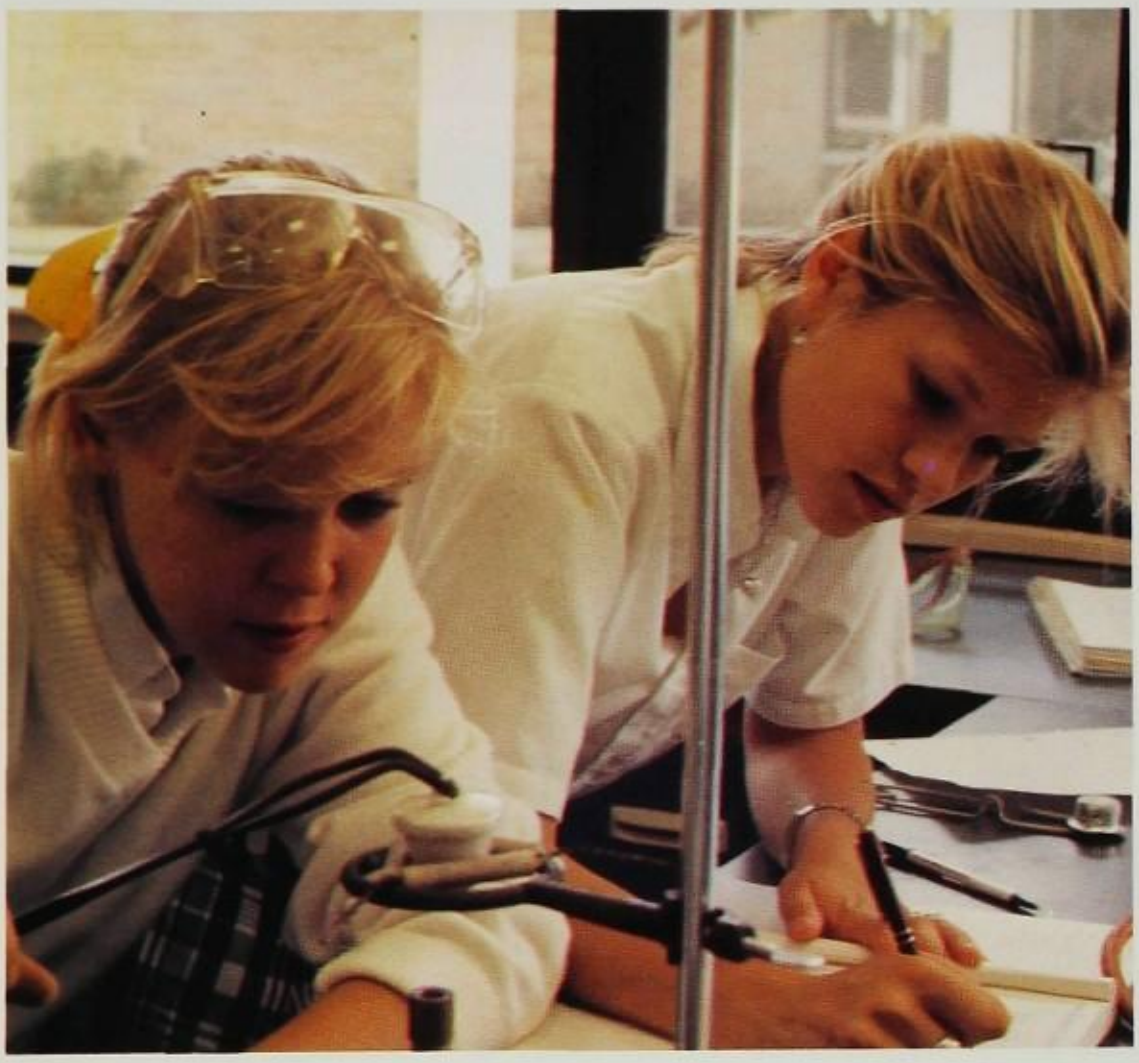
As Middle School students gain maturity, they have more challenges and a wider range of academic subjects. Students are exposed to fine arts in choir, ceramics, art, and music. They learn self-reliance, and they continue to develop their special talents.

In Upper School, the options for growth are almost limitless. Guided by their advisors, girls plan their courses of study themselves and explore new academic and extra-curricular areas. From world history to biology, field hockey to voice, girls sample many different areas. Once a girl recognizes her talent, she may go as far as her skills allow. Whether her interest is in foreign language or student government, she is encouraged to set high goals.

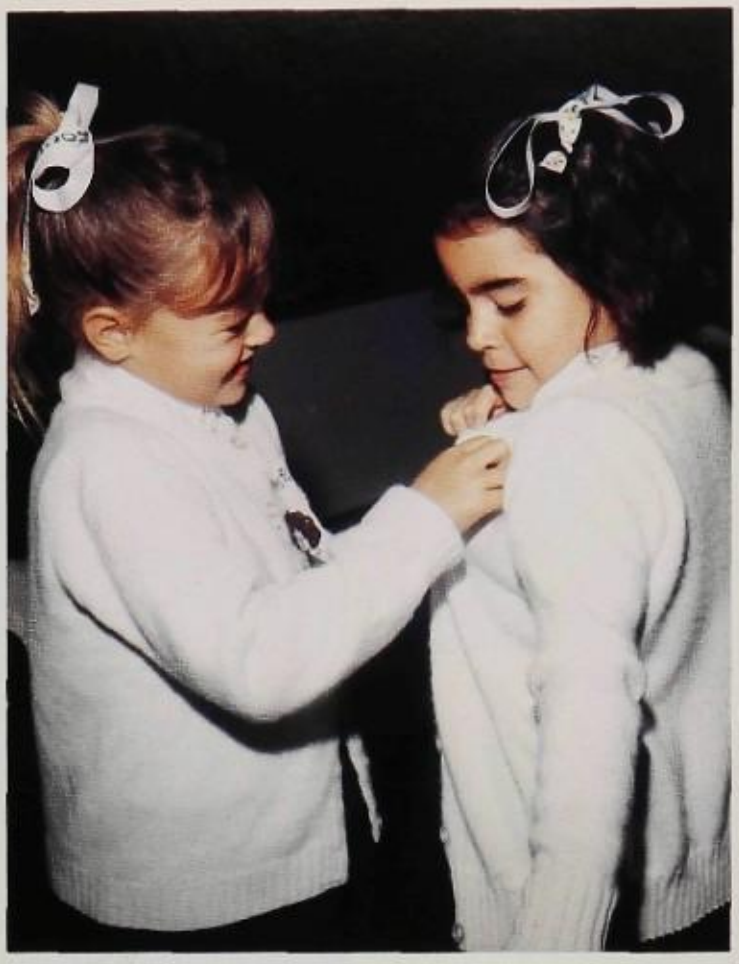
Hockaday wants students to learn about themselves and to grow into well-rounded individuals. The sooner a girl identifies her talents, the sooner she may refine them through her activities inside and outside of school.

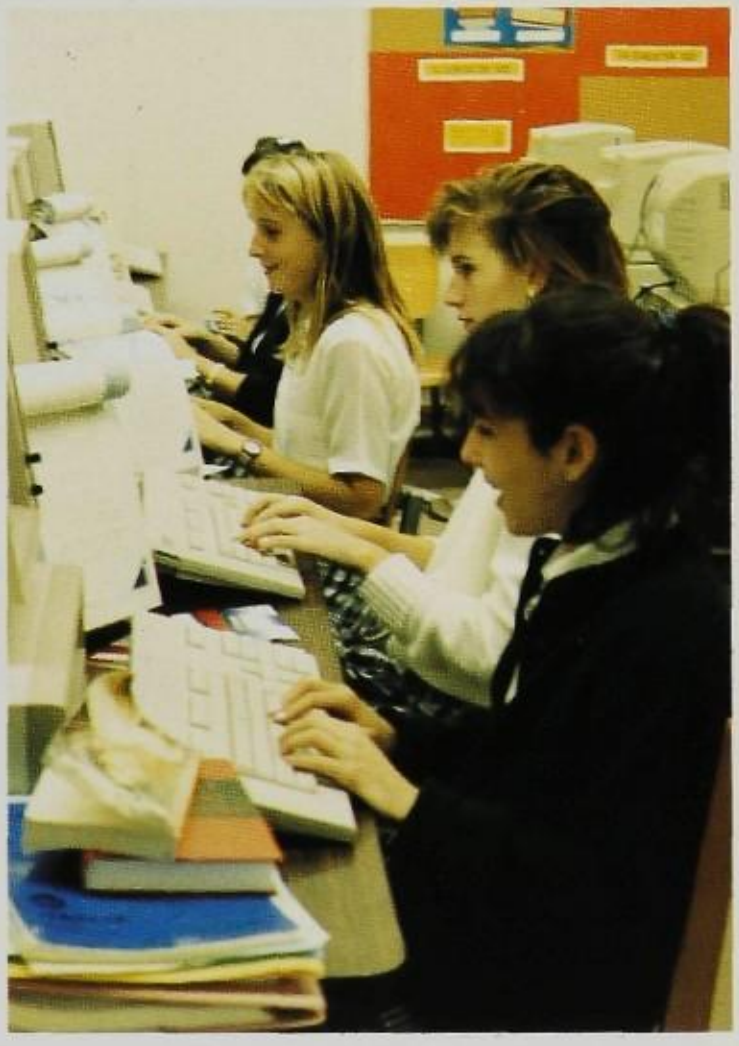






Individuality





e.e. cummings said,
"To be nobody-but-yourself — in a world which is doing its best, night and day, to make you everybody else — means to fight the hardest battle which any human being can fight; and never stop fighting."

Each individual — from the smallest pre-schooler to the fourteen-year veteran — is special at Hockaday. She is an important part of the community as a whole because diversity is part of the unique environment. This is a school where a heterogenous blend of students learn from one another to the greater enrichment of all. Each person brings talents, interests, hopes, and fears to Hockaday; and she shares them all with close friends. The exchange of ideas often leads to the altering of attitudes and prejudices. Getting to know people who are different from oneself allows a girl to know herself better. Not only are the friendships which are formed by students mutually beneficial, but they also last long after their days at Hockaday are over.

Dedication: Jill Skaggs

We, the class of 1986, proudly dedicate the Cornerstones to Jill Skaggs. Originally from Luxembourg, she has taught at Hockaday for 20 years. Mrs. Skaggs has participated in diverse areas of The Hockaday School. She was once Administrative Assistant to the Principal of Upper School, and at one time she taught German. She has been teaching Advanced Placement Modern European History for the past 18 years. Mrs. Skaggs' other history courses include Latin America and India, which she has been teaching for 5 years. During the summer, Mrs. Skaggs takes a group of girls to Europe; and during spring break, she offers a Caribbean cruise. Last summer she added a trip to India and the Far East, and this summer she will be touring South America with a group of girls. Mrs. Skaggs has been not only a good teacher, but also a good friend to Hockaday.

Headmistress:

Miss Idanelle McMurry has been at Hockaday for seven years. This is her second time to work at Hockaday — she taught English previously at the old Hockaday campus. She is, in fact, only the second headmistress in the school's history.

Strengthening the cornerstone of courtesy is the most important goal for Miss Mac this year. In addition, she hopes to see the new Fine Arts wing completed by the end of the summer of 1986 and also feels that Hockaday needs to strengthen its ties with St. Marks. Along with these goals, Miss Mac hopes to review the curriculum in the context of the twenty-first century.

Miss Mac enjoys watching students grow and realize their goals in what she considers to be the strongest school for girls in the country. She takes pleasure in seeing girls tackle the rigorous academic program and succeed.

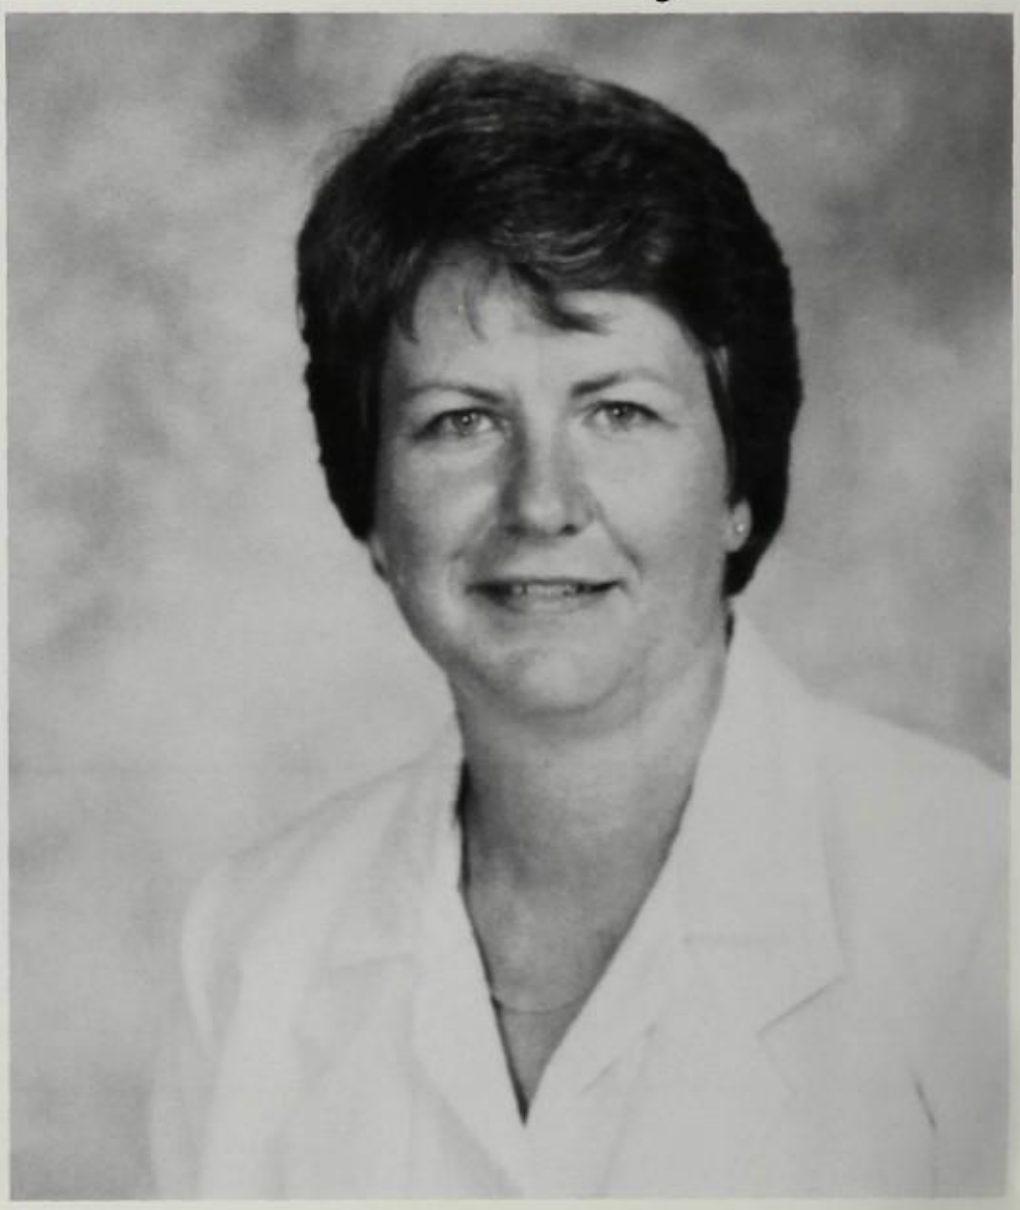
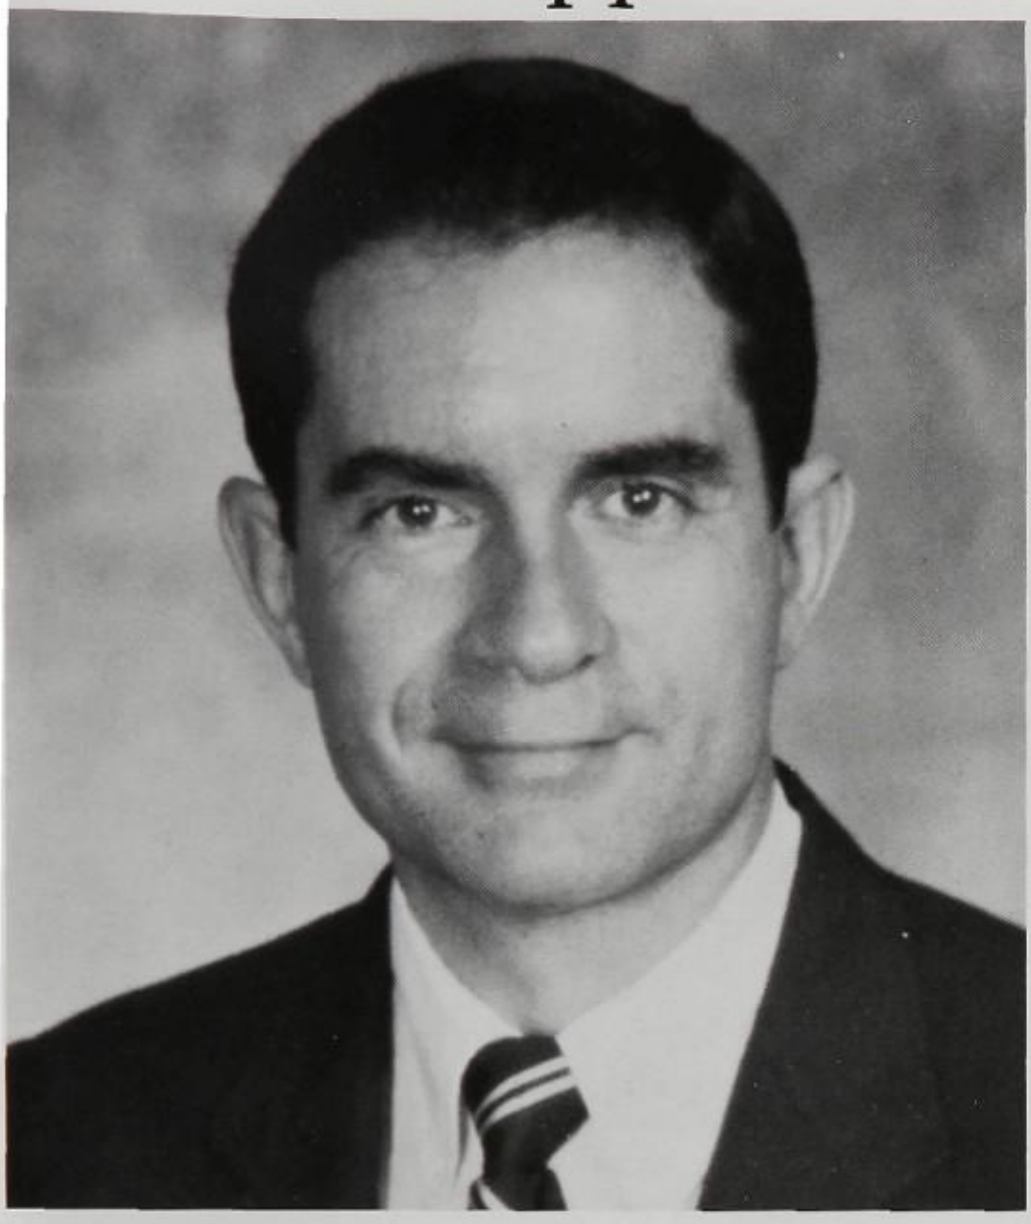
Assistant Head Mistress: Mary Kesler



This is Miss Mary Kesler's 15th year at Hockaday, and her 4th year as Assistant Headmistress. An administrator by responsibility and interest, she is enthusiastically fulfilling her duties in three areas of concern: Residence, Counseling, and Admissions. First, Miss Kesler is responsible for the overall management of the Residence department, aiding Mrs. Rose in her duties. For admissions, not only does she meet prospective students and their families, but she also follows up on new students to be sure of their happiness in their new environment. Finally, she works directly with the students by counseling them and arranging advisor groups.

Miss Kesler believes that the students at Hockaday are "very alive, motivated, and interested in what they are doing," and that each student contributes to the special atmosphere in the school. In the future, she hopes to get to know every facet of each girl, getting acquainted with all of her talents, as well as her academic side. Miss Kesler's concern and dedication have been appreciated by all of Hockaday.

Head of Upper School: Mr. Lee Gaillard



Educated at Yale and Middlebury, Mr. Gaillard has taught for more than twenty years. Thirteen of these twenty have been at Hockaday, including six as English Department Chairman and five as Head of Upper School.

Since his arrival at Hockaday, he has seen the size of the Upper School increase by fifty students; the construction of the new library, athletic center, tennis facilities, science building, and the lower school building. He enjoys teaching his creative writing course and trying to be of help to both students and faculty. In turn, his caring nature is certainly appreciated by both faculty and students alike.

Head of Middle School: Karen Drawz

This is Miss Karen Drawz's 9th year at Hockaday, her 7th as Head of Middle School. Miss Drawz oversees the curriculum by coordinating schedules and preventing conflicts. She also helps the teachers by encouraging new ideas. Finally, she promotes communication between the faculty, students, and parents.

Miss Drawz feels that there is a mystique at Hockaday not present in every school, a demand for excellence that is put on each individual by herself. She believes the faculty uses the resources and facilities at Hockaday to teach with enthusiasm to the best of their abilities in the classrooms. In addition, she is amazed at the students' self-motivation to do well. Miss Drawz hopes that the people at Hockaday will keep the spirit alive, the warmth, caring, and generosity in all facets. Hockaday is grateful for Miss Drawz's own spirit and dedication to the school.

Head of Lower School: Marion Crume

Mrs. Marion Crume is the multi-faceted leader of grades preschool through fourth. She deals with the day-to-day logistics of running her division of Hockaday. She also coordinates the Lower School faculty and serves as a sounding board for parents. Above all, she shows a concern for each individual student; and she is pleased to see the girls develop as they go through Lower School.

This year, Mrs. Crume says, is a year of refinement in the Lower School as this is its second year in the Ashley Priddy building. She wants to focus on improving the Lower School program and to offer each girl more than just the "three R's." She would like to assess the needs of each individual student and try to meet her special needs.

Mrs. Crume came to Hockaday as a second grade teacher. She only wanted to teach for one year, but "became addicted" to teaching. She has been at Hockaday ever since. Her experience in the classroom has made her a leader who understands the problems that students, teachers, and parents have; and she empathizes with them. But, she also can apply her first-hand knowledge to situations that arise. Mrs. Crume is a most dedicated head of the Lower School and a valuable friend to Hockaday.

Seniors of '86 —
we really got our kicks,
Senior rings and senior blazers
we loaned them to our little sisters.
Ade — the prez we love the most our senior trip we were so close.
We worked together all through the year and now our time is finally here.
We see our time at Hockaday and sigh.
Thanks to everyone but it's time for us to fly!

So long Hockaday — see 'ya round,
Goodbye!

The monstrous thing is not that men have created roses out of this dung heap, but that, for some reason or other, they should want roses. For some reason or other man looks for the miracle, and to accomplish it he will wade through blood. If you search for tenderness it isn't hard to find.
You can have all the love you need to live —
But if you look for truthfulness
you might as well be blind,
It always seems so hard to give.
Billy Joel

Now we take, our times so nonchalant and spend our nights so bon vivant . . .
and so it's time to change our ways,
but I've loved these days

So before we end and then begin, we'll drink a toast to how it's been
A few more times that I can say
I've Loved These Days.

There are places I'll remember all my life
Though some have changed
Some forever not for better
Some have gone and some remain
All these places had their moments
With lovers and friends I still can recall
Some are dead and some are living
In my life I've loved them all

Imagine all the people living in peace
You may say I'm a dreamer
but I'm not the only one
I hope some day you'll join us and the world will live as one.
John Lennon

If a man does not keep pace with his companions,
Perhaps it is because he has a different dreamer.
Let him step to the music he hears,
However measured or far away.
Thoreau

Strength does not come from physical capacity.
It comes from an indomitable will.
Mohatma Gandhi

Two roads diverged in a wood and I-I took the one less traveled by and that has made all the difference.

The glory of friendship is not the outstretched hand, nor the kindly smile, nor the joy of companionship; it is the spiritual inspiration that comes to one when he discovers that someone else believes in him and is willing to trust him.

Ralph Waldo Emerson

You don't get to choose how you're going to die. Or when. You can only decide how you're going to live now.

Blurbs are so typical reeking of Nicotine and Dallas North, booth tanned frosted wench escorts louie vutton to mall and cliquing guccis on pas thrusts uut said manicure don't chip and pulls. Say "retch" boys and girls. This is not real world. This is the city of BMW/Mercedes studded freeways. Cannot breathe here unless Republican. I remember times past but you don't. Busy with makeup clothes drinking boys sex your youth ran by. D-I-V-O-R-C-E. You can't see that glass is half empty. Cynical pessimistic me? The coked optemism is noisome to me. NO more chaste than me (don't lie) art thou. Delectable moments have existed. The 16th Bday, New Years '83, Alaska. Mostly Mundane Mostly Mush. Few matter to me on the large scale. Count on two hands. They know who there are not in vain not needing identity. Few I love (no emotion) . . . Sat — Im cold Real world arrives soon. Duck. Most will and go on wealth dripping drooling (fakes). Rush to pledge hurry don't be left out. My sanguine outlook senses the nature of man bloody. I shall never be let down. Joy/counts only to the pure of self. Be true to you. I have claustro not as bad as agora when you hold me strangle in your existence. I LIKE IKE. The only guy who won't let me down. Never wrecked ticked destroyed defaced. Can you say DWI bet you can. Stop leaning you're not privileged. Parties parties party party. Waste life. buy a new one can you. Coquette. See my new sweater car bed fur jewels. Parental unit a or b paid for it. Repertoire includes NM, Sangers, Bloomies. Bask in bux. Go ahead make my day. Starts badly ends bizarre. Nothing worse than ML in modE. Boots kick lickers in college. Times were when fun was had. Large cows eat alot (thanks MA). Bowling pro yet CC? Nothing quite like circle B. The TG was for five months generous. Out out damn spots and skins. We won't even mention Spark Plug and Toilet Bowl=tourists. Stay home it's safe fun free. Wouldn't have traded Kips for the world LM. You the closest for 3 ½ years. Why did you leave. Stephen Art. Dennison still number one. DA was to LM as KM was to JK. But true love is all in the mind, see? Troy = personal unity. I am skate educated. Iwanna Houston ramp. Incense peppermints blue suede KRQX. Legacies left like little liers. Funny honey bunny how many people I don't know died this year. Amazing Grace. Mr. ed is bestest (Tulsa 84 ruled) There is much I've done but public exposure to every burp wrinkle snort = pointless. Everybody goes through phases. Dallas in 20 years I can here live fast, die young.

Real isn't how you are made . . . It's a thing that happens to you. When a child loves you for a long time, not just to play with, but REALLY loves you, then you become real . . . It takes a long time. That's why it doesn't happen to people who break easily or have sharp edges, or have to be carefully kept . . . because once you are real, you can't be ugly, except to people who don't understand.

Love cannot be forced
Love cannot be coaxed and teased.
It comes out of heaven — unasked and unsought.

'Tis the one who is full of sunshine and genuinely tries.
Who will clear the clouds of trouble from his own and other's skies.

Peter flung out his arms. There were no children there, and it was night time; but he addressed all who might be dreaming of the Neverland, and who were therefore nearer to him than you might think: boys and girls in their nighties, and naked papooses in their baskets hung from trees. "Do you believe?" he cried. Tink sat up in bed almost briskly to listen to her fate. "If you believe," he shouted to them, "clap your hands; don't let Tink die." Many clapped. Some didn't.

J. M. Barrie

If you want to sing out, sing out and if you want to be free, be free . . .

Cat Stevens

The heart has it reasons which reason knows nothing of.
Blaise Pascal

You of my heart (many): Happiness is happening. Fill your hearts, and everything will be Hunky Dory. Right Sally? Our kitestrings are tied tightly, love. Capote wrote for us as well as for Sook, I think. I love you, Sal, and Thomas Wolfe was wrong you can come home again — and when you do, bring us the two most precious things in the city. But first see a picture show and write me the story . . . what a long, strange trip it's been . . . Katharine of the beautiful smile: our pacts won't be forgotten, so finish that cigarette and stay away from the Galleria. Hello babies! You know the rest . . . give me your hands, cause you're wonderful, and Bowie's nice under a green sky, but so is almost anything, especially cummings, pitying the busy monster. I love you, Kat . . . Valerie — if the homework brings you downtown — just kidding, do those English journals. Thanks for helping me through that horrible time . . . you made me smile on my birthday, Val — I love you dearly, sweet sister . . . April, Jessica — you know that everything but the circus is damned . . . especially Algebra, useless rubbish that it is . . . Sarah, my dear poet/friend — remember that rehearsal? The start of a charmed love . . . Katherine Bliss, I will tell you one more time: you're wonderful! Now don't forget . . . Stephanie, you'll never change my mind, but have fun trying . . . seagulls, sing your hearts away, cause while the sinners sin, the children play . . . Mr. You Know Who — thanks for a bite of the apple . . . Mr. Long, I wish you joy — and Mr. Gaillard, thank you for your kind help and understanding. I'll think of those titles someday. Julia, Julia — there is a world without Guccis, I'm sure of it. Let's meet there for a picnic . . . we who have wandered down from fragrant mountains of eternal now . . . Tonya Gail, watch out for that purple man . . . love to you, my olderst friend. Paul, it's Spring darling — has been will be. If we get lost, I'll wait for you in the treehouse, in a necklace of moonlight and expensive stars. You know what's behind my eyes. QAllan I love you (always). Lady, my sweet mother/sister — thank you for sleeping without knowing. If you had known, you would only have smiled, relieved. Is that real clear? Brenda and Eddy were the popular steadies and the King and Queen of the Prom . . . I can't be that (darn), but I'll surprise you with something even better someday . . . thanks for Spring Break '85 (no, Hockaday, it wasn't Padre). Dad — you may have lost the popularity contest, but you won my heart. I love you both. My old friends Harold and Maude: thanks for the lesson — it's been well applied, I think I should like to change into a sunflower most of all . . . everybody should be able to make some music . . . Robin Hood — I think if you and I were the only ones who clapped, we could still save her . . . Home is where my friend is, and Sook - you're not funny, you're fun — more fun than anybody, but Wendy — you were a fool to grow up. Go back to Peter and the treehouse, so I won't have to cry at the end of your story. There is no more forbidden ground (smile). The sky will be green again, and Sally — later days are growing near.

Is there no sign of light as we stand in the darkness, watching the sun arise. Is there no sign of life as we stare at the waters into the strangers eyes. And who are we to criticize, or to scorn the things that they do? For we shall seek and we shall find Ammonia Avenue

We call for the proof and we question the answers, only the doubt will grow. Are we blind to the truth or a sign to believe in, only the wise will know.

And word by word they handed down the light that shines today and those who came at first to scoff remained behind to pray. Yes those who came to scoff remained behind to pray.

If we can't hear the rhyme and we can't see the reason, why should the hope remain, for a man will grow tired and his soul weary, living his life in vain and who are we to justify the right in all we do? Until we seek, until we find. Ammonia Avenue.

Through all the doubt, some how they know and stone by stone they built it high, until the sun broke through a ray of hope, a shining light. Ammonia Avenue.

Just what you want to be, you will be in the end.
Moody Blues

Gatsby believed in the green light, the orgiastic future that year by year recedes before us. It eluded us then, but that's no matter — tomorrow we will run faster, stretch our arms farther. . . . And one fine morning — so we beat on, boats against the current, born ceaselessly into the past.

Big Sisters + Little Sisters = Love

The class of '86 continued the tradition of big and little sisters this year. Each senior was assigned a freshman or a new student as her little sis, so that these girls could have an easy transition into Hockaday life. Big and little sisters met for the first time before school started — going out to lunch or for ice cream. Then, on September 5th a party was held for all big and little sisters to get to know each other. All of this was organized by freshman mom Kristin Kessler, but the girls took it from there. They made posters for each other, gave each other gifts and candy, and they got to be special friends. Big sisters showed little sisters the ropes of upper school, and more importantly a bond of friendship was formed between the classes of '89 and '86.

YOU KNOW YOU'RE

Getting into college and 1100 on the SAT's are your only goals.

You finally realize when Miss Lennon is gone.

You're seen on the streets of Dallas more often than on campus.

The senior cut line is more important than studying.

A SENIOR WHEN . . .

You finally get to kick an underclassman out of Tarry House instead of being kicked out yourself.

You never talk in class, but can always manage to yell down the hall at a freshman.

The trashcan holds more of your books than your locker does.

You're embarrassed to see pictures like this.

UNDERCLASS

FORM III — Almost Free!

If the 1985-86 Junior class could be described in one word, it would have to be "spirited." Under the leadership of class president Ann Ards, the juniors have initiated many new class projects, such as senior pals and class sponsorships. With the senior pals, each junior secretly provides a senior with goodies throughout the year in order to strengthen relationships with the class. With class sponsorships, Juniors supported members of their own class for their activities in areas of fine arts and athletics. In addition, the Juniors volunteered their help at the Children's Medical Center and participated in the traditional selling of donuts to raise money for their AFS student. They have clearly had a successful year.

FORM II STRIVE TO DRIVE

This year the sophomore class, under the leadership of president Darcy Ahlberg, continued to excel in academics, community and school services. To begin their fantastic year, they held a bakesale to benefit the Mexican Relief Fund that grossed over $200. Other projects included selling Gobblegrams at Thanksgiving for the American Field Service, which raised over $600; and helping St. Mark's with their canpaign in early December. Through good leadership and cooperation, the sophomore class had a fantastic and productive year.

FORM I HAS FUN

The freshmen class of 1985-1986 welcomed many new students as we strengthened our unity. Under the leadership of our president, Carlyn Henry, we participated in many projects to benefit the community. The freshmen also broke records in the canpaign because of everyone's enthusiasm and determination to donate cans of food to the needy at Christmastime. In addition, we experienced enjoyable and adventurous class unity projects. These included a joint car wash with St. Marks and a class trip to the Y.O. Ranch. The latter was particularly interesting because of the many activities planned and the huge flood that occurred. We also appreciated our big sisters helping us make it through our first year in Upper School. All in all, the freshman class had an exciting year we will always remember.

ACTIVITIES

Hockadaisies Enjoy Fun in the Sun

Three long months — June, July, and August — what was there to do without hectic school days keeping us busy? Hockaday students undoubtedly had no problem finding activities to fill their days. Abroad, Mrs. Skaggs led tours through Europe and the Far East. Micheau Folse and Jody Plotkin shared the AFS experience with host families in France and Yugoslavia. Closer to home, Hockadaisies attended summer sessions at various prep schools and universities, while others simply relaxed and enjoyed their lazy days at camp. Like the students, Hockaday kept very busy. The dining room underwent major renovations with the addition of the Wittenberg Dining Terrace. To welcome the boarding students and Seniors, Tarry House was refurnished; ceiling fans were installed. After these eventful months, both students and Hockaday were ready to start off with a bang in '85-'86.

Hockaday Starts out with a Kick in 85-86

After a summer of fun and sun, Hockadaisies returned to their hallowed halls on September 4th. For the returning students, the day was another exciting year's beginning. For the new students, however, it was a day full of new experiences, lost schedules, overflowing lockers, and hundreds of new faces. The Welcoming Committee helped by organizing parties before Orientation and by decorating the halls with colorful "BACK-TO-SCHOOL" signs.

Spirited Seniors Unite At Sky Ranch

Early in September, the Senior class boarded buses anticipating a weekend they would not soon forget. Although the girls were first told they were going to Acapulco, they were ecstatic to discover their true destination — Sky Ranch! Activities ranging from swimming, canoeing, horseback riding, and playing on the water slide kept the girls entertained. Moreover, the girls elected class officers. That night, everyone sat around a campfire discussing the class and their goals. This fun-filled weekend was a special time for each member of the senior class.

Student Council Sets their Goals for '85-86

On the morning of September 14th, the Student Council met at Hockaday for their weekend retreat. A meeting was held with Mr. Long to discuss leadership qualities and then a joint meeting was held with St. Mark's Student Council to discuss the combined goals for the year. More support between the two schools was the most important idea presented. When the meeting with St. Mark's adjourned, the girls participated in a scavenger hunt and other games to demonstrate leadership qualities. The council then went to Darcy Ahlberg's house in Lewisville, Texas, for the evening. Activities included a "trust fall," cooking dinner, and discussions. Student Council goals include courtesy and better student-faculty relations. The following morning after more discussion, the girls returned home with a better understanding of what it meant to be a leader at Hockaday.

Hockaday CAN Help Out in the Community

The Community Service Committee planned an active year for Hockaday students. In October, they began with the Pumpkin patch and selling Trick-or Treat bags benefiting Children's Medical Center. During the Christmas season, Hockaday joined forces with St. Mark's, gathering cans for the needy. In addition to fulfilling their individual service requirement of ten hours, many students chose to tutor at Stephen C. Foster Elementary School. The Community Service Committee can be proud to know that the Dallas area has benefited from Daisy Power!

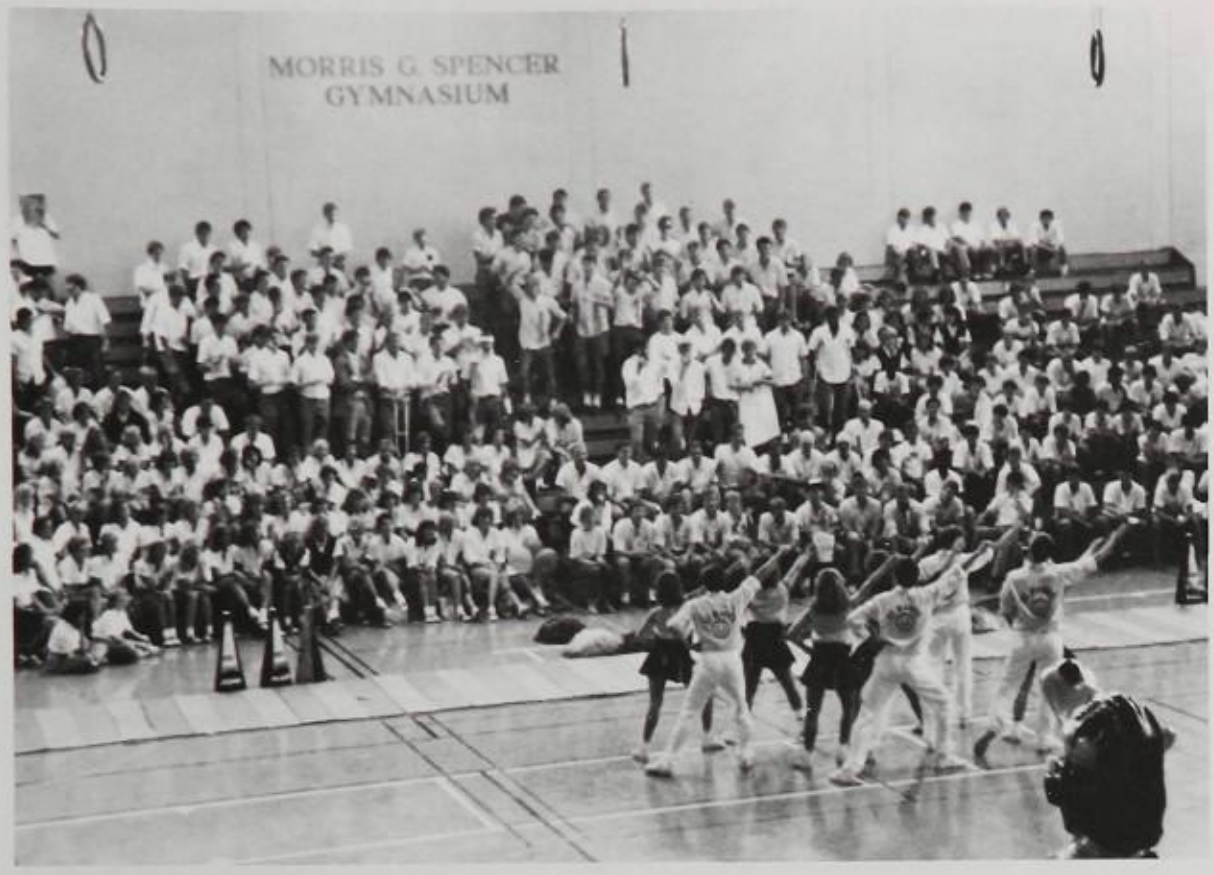
Cheerleaders Roar With Spirit



Every Friday during football season, St. Marks' cheerleaders boosted the Lions with a pep rally after school. Through skits, cheers, and courageous stunts, they entertained Marksmen and Daisies, getting them in the spirit for the evening's game. Though many of the squad members were new to cheering, they learned quickly; and their hard work was rewarded with many successful pep rallies.

Trustees — Daisies for a Day!

On September 27th, the Board of Trustees of Hockaday came to school for a full day of classes so they could see the school in action. Each trustee went to classes all morning and was assigned a teacher with whom he ate lunch. Following afternoon classes, they went to a meeting involving both faculty from Lower, Middle, and Upper School and trustees. Three teachers spoke about why they enjoyed teaching at Hockaday; then three trustees discussed their roles as members of the Board. The overall goal of this meeting was for the faculty and the trustees to get to know one another better. One trustee commented, "The day was a great success. I was impressed with how well the students expressed themselves. Also I feel as if the faculty learned that we are a group of individuals who care about the school, not just policy-makers." The day promoted understanding on the parts of students, faculty, and trustees alike.

Y.O. — Why Not?

Not even torrential rains could dampen the enthusiasm of the Class of '89 as they made the traditional trek to the Y.O. Ranch. The freshmen participated in discussion groups and nature hikes. However, the highlight of the weekend occurred when forty girls were trapped in a barn at Bear Creek overnight. Thanks to a unifying sense of humor, all survived and now can look back upon that trip with fond memories of a class growing closer together.

Halloween at Hockaday:

Pop tarts, witches, Chicken McNuggets, and ghosts — this was Halloween '85 at Hockaday. Carrying on the Hockaday tradition, the Seniors transformed the halls into an angelic heaven and a fiery hell. The Lower School paraded through the dining hall, showing their creative costumes and shining faces to all. The Community Service Commitee also participated in this festive occasion by selling Trick or Treat Bags to benefit Children's Medical Center. By the end of the day, everyone was in the spirit of a true Hallow's Eve.

Prime Time Entertainment in Assemblies

The Hockaday audience has been held captivated by a variety of interesting and entertaining assemblies. Guests ranged from clergymen of all denominations to astronauts. Even Hockaday's own dance classes and choir have kept the Daisies on the edge of their seats. Highlights of this year's assemblies included a round-the-world cyclist, a Buddhist, and a Baroque celebration of Handel, Scarlatti, and Bach. Assemblies were always a fun part of Tuesday and Thursday afternoons.

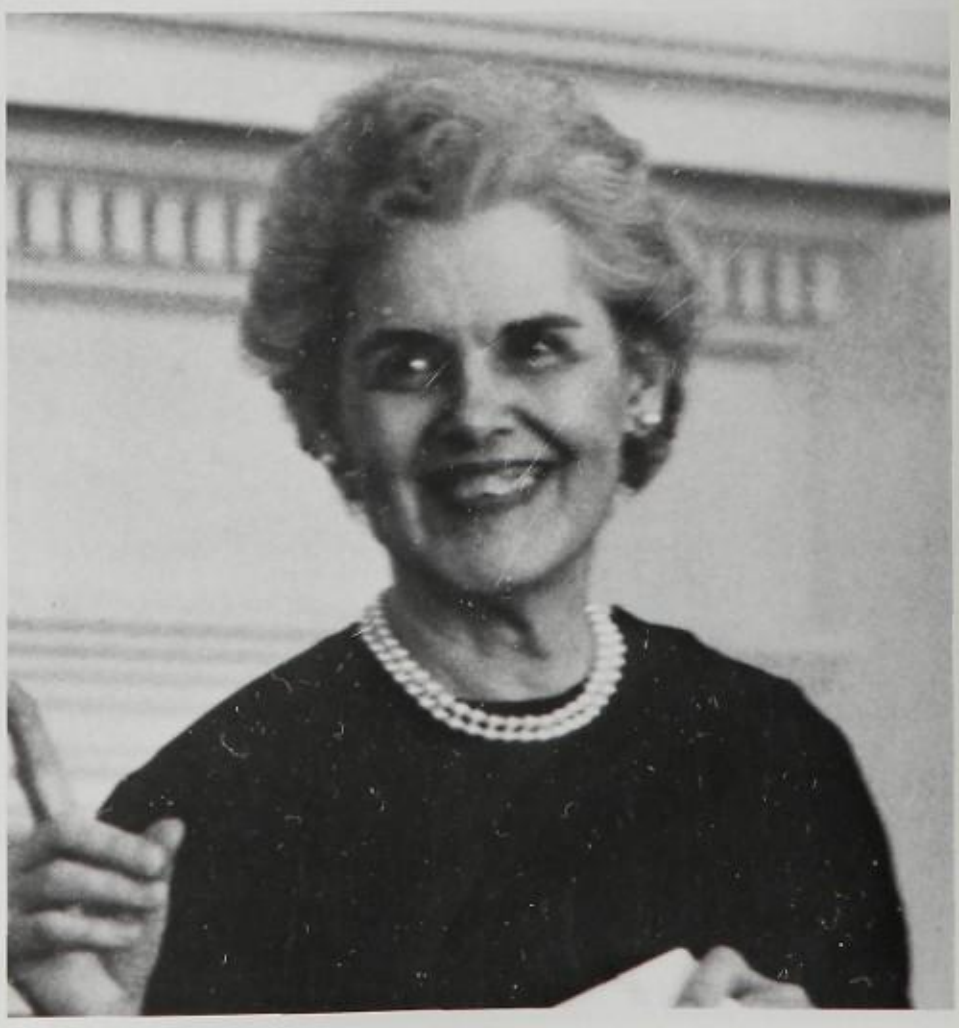
Famous Women Visit Hockaday

Two of Texas' most influential women, Ann Richards and Vivian Castleberry, visited the Hockaday campus this winter as the Allman Fellow and the Hartman Fellow, respectively. Texas State Treasurer Ann Richards spoke to students on December 10 concerning such topics as her career in politics and Geraldine Ferraro's influence on women in government. Ms. Richards shared with the students the difficulties of being a woman in office as well as encouraging the young people of today to achieve their potential. Overcoming many obstacles to reach her position, Ann Richards has set a fine example for women everywhere.

On Tuesday, February 11, the 1986 Hartman Fellow, Vivian Castleberry, began her two-day symposium on the Hockaday campus. First, she addressed the morning assembly on "The Road to Wisdom." Follow-up discussions in Great Hall included: "Unofficial USSR", exploring the personal side of the Soviet country; "How to Be Unique While Fitting In," encouraging young women to pursue their individuality; and "Having It All," balancing career and family, exemplified in her own life. Ms. Castleberry is an accomplished journalist who has interviewed such public figures as Ronald Reagan, Richard Nixon, and Helen Keller, while at the same time maintaining a household of five daughters. Influential in transforming the women's page of the Dallas Times Herald to the widely popular "Living" section, she also serves her community by sitting on boards geared to combat domestic violence.



86 Days Till Graduation

Excitement was in the air as the class of '86 celebrated "86 days to Graduation." Dressed in college paraphernalia, they displayed their ambitions for the following years. Besides the traditional group of UT-bound students, Ivy-League hopefuls were also in strong force. The Seniors completed the festivities by decorating the halls and giving a party in Tarry House during which they discussed their plans for the future. Commented one Senior, "It was a great break from the stress-filled academic day."

'Twas the Night of Christmas Formal

'Twas the night of Christmas
Formal
And all through North Dallas
Couples arrived by the scores
To find Hockaday a palace!
The school was aglow
With lights on the tree,
With greetings from Miss Mac
For you and for me.
All Daisies looked stunning,
Along with their beaus
With hopes to be kissed
Under the mistletoe!
Out in the dining room
Was heard such a beat,
Everyone rose to stomp their feet.
And what to their wondering eyes should appear?
But the Gigolos bringing
Loud Christmas cheer!
As the clock struck twelve,
all headed back,
Took off their gowns
And then hit the sack.
All sound asleep
With their eyes shut tight,
A Merry Christmas for all,
And all had a good night!

Waiting to be kissed under the mistletoe!

Merry Christmas!

Dads and Daughters — A Black Tie Affair

Fathers and daughters alike enjoyed the annual Dad's Dinner on Wednesday, March 19. The School Service gaily decorated the Dining Terrace with bright flowers reminiscent of the Roaring 20's, the theme of the evening. After enjoying a gourmet dinner featuring roast beef and chocolate mousse tarts, the dads escorted their dates to the presentation of the musical "Mame." Dad's Dinner once again provided a rare opportunity for fathers and daughters to spend a special evening together.

Cast of Mame

The 1986 Hockaday/St. Mark's Spring Musical, MAME, achieved great success in both its regular performances and at Dad's Dinner. Adrienne Cohen starred as Mame, an aging flapper who loses her money to the Depression. Patrick Dennis, Mame's nephew who comes to live with her, was played by Matt Ellis and Todd Carter during his college years. Dance Workshop gave a splendid performance as they danced in colorful regalia in the many musical numbers.

Seniors Honored

On March 13, Hockaday honored four seniors who best exemplify the cornerstones of the school: courtesy, character, athletics, and scholarship. The ceremony also celebrates the birthday of Ela Hockaday, the school's founder. Founder's Day recipients include Katherine Bliss, Lisa Loeb, Salli Preston, and Tamara Rorrie. Hockaday alumna Helen Hunt Hendricks spoke of several outstanding women whose lives spanned four centuries, encouraging students to appreciate the quality education now available to women. After the ceremony the recipients and their families were honored at a tea in the Great Hall.

ZATIONS

Student Council

The 1986 Student Council was quite busy this year. Under the leadership of President Lisa Loeb, the council focused on one very important but the seemingly forgotten cornerstone: courtesy. They revived the past tradition of courtesy caps but transformed it to courtesy pins to encourage students to be more courteous. The Christmas Formal was quite exciting this year, and the Safe Rides committee, in its second year, was also a big success. Many thanks to the 1986 Student Council!

The Student Council members "launch" the new year at the Student Council retreat.

The House and Honor Councils

Hockaday's Honor Council serves to promote honor among students in order that Hockaday evolve into a community of complete trust. When necessary, the Honor Council will meet with and advise students confronted with violations of the honor code and make recommendations for suitable punishment to the Discipline Committee. The council consists of an elected representative from each form, a senior chairman, and a faculty sponsor (Mr. Thomas Walker). All meetings are confidential. This year, the Honor Council is emphasizing better communication between the council and students in hope that the honor code will not be something to fear but rather a thing that all Hockaday students may take pride in.

The House Council serves to represent the resident community at Hockaday. The council, consisting of elected representatives from each hall, aims at promoting unity between day and resident students and helping resident students adjust to the environment. This year, the council organized transportation and entertainment committees. These committees sponsored parties for the boarders and helped provide proper transportation for the resident girls to outside activities and involvements. In 1985-86, Hockadays House Council contributed greatly to the improvements in the Boarding Department.

Fine Arts Board

The Fine Arts Board made this year at Hockaday more exciting by their support of the various cultural arts with the many events and activities they sponsored. They kept busy by planning and sparking interest in the two talent shows, the evening fundraiser, and the Hockaday Fine Arts Festival. They also participated in the Bach-Scarlatti-Handel Festival, the ISAS Festival, and in raising money for ISAS by selling bumper stickers. Members of the Fine Arts Board included the student leaders of the Vibrato, Montage, Fourcast, and Cornerstones, as well as leaders from choir, Dance Workshop, NFL, and Thespians. Also members of the Fine Arts Board were the representatives of the visual arts and applied music.

Athletic Board

The Athletic Board was busy working on various projects this year. They sponsored the Christmas Formal and Varsity Desserts, and they hosted the Athletic Awards and the SPC tournaments. They also ran the concession stand after school. They succeeded in their goal of promoting school spirit this year with the help of their sponsor, Ms. Knighton; their President, Jill Bramblett; their Vice-President, Elizabeth Thompson; and their Treasurer, Caroline Clark. Two representatives were elected from each class. This year, the Athletic Board's motto was "Get Your Kicks In '86." Thanks to the Athletic Board for a spirited year.

Orientation Group Leaders

Salli Preston enjoys her Orientation Group.

The Orientation Group Leaders were as successful as ever this year in helping the new girls become more familiar with the Upper School. With faculty members to help them, these girls served as advisors to the new girls for the first part of the year. They played an important part in helping new students make the transition to Hockaday life.

Community Service Lends a Hand

The Community Service Committee, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Kenning, wants to get Hockaday more involved with the community both as an entire school and as individuals. The committee stressed that anyone can help, and she could do it in a variety of ways. With the help of chairman Judy Choi and two representatives from every grade, the work of the committee was in full swing by October. At that time the girls sold Halloween pumpkins and candy to benefit the Children's Medical Center. A new project, the Charity Dance, was given at St. Mark's in November; at that time, many different bands performed for charity. The joint project between St. Marks, Greenhill, Episcopal School of Dallas, and Hockaday went successfully. During December, St. Marks' annual "Canpaign," with this year's theme "It's Cantagious!" involved much of the student body of both schools.

School Service Organizes Hockaday

The School Service Committee, under the leadership of Jody Plotkin, is a vital part of Hockaday. Every girl at Hockaday takes part in a school service project, such as serving as hall proctors, messengers, aids for science labs, and bookstore cashiers. The committee, composed of two representatives from each grade and a chairman, also sponsors the Dads' Day Dinner in the spring. This year the committee generated much excitement before the holidays by decorating Hockaday with cheerful posters.

The Convocations Committee, composed of two representatives from each grade and chairman Sid Ellis, is responsible for arranging the chapels and assemblies thorughout the year. This past year, chapels have focused on many different religions, such as Islam, Hinduism, Judaism, and Christianity. The assemblies have brough us respected speakers, and our own Mr. Walker spoke at the Thanksgiving chapel. Slides on Halley's Comet were presented, alerting the student body as to the best time and place for viewing it. Talent assemblies were given in which the students performed. By doing this, the committee enlightened the students of Hockaday throughout the entire year.

Seniors Ignite Enthusiasm in '86

The Senior Activities Committee has planned activities during the year that united the senior class of 1986 into one large family. With Talley Dunn successfully leading the committee, the tradition of seniors opening car doors for Lower School students as they arrive at school was re-instated. The committee planned events entirely on its own initiative, such as the very successful breakfast for their Little Sisters and a surprise for the junior class on Ring Day. The annual blood drive was sponsored by the committee and drew a record 90 volunteers. To further the unity in the senior class, the committee printed T-shirts for themselves and dressed up for their "86 Days Before Graduation." The Senior Activities Committee led the Class of '86 and the Upper School to a successful year.

JCL Jumps into Action

For the first time, the Junior Classical League elected officers for the 1985-86 school year. This was just one attempt to obtain more student participation and activity in the group this year. The Junior Classical League is comprised of current Latin students at Hockaday. As members, girls are able to take part in area, state, and national Latin contests and conventions with other Latin students from different schools. The club also organized dinners and fund raising projects to involve members. The year proved to be an innovative and exciting one for the Junior Classical League.

Dux Femina Facti

Dux Femina Facti, the Latin honor society at Hockaday, is composed of girls who have for two years excelled in Latin. Kim Howsden, the club's first president, has stirred up enthusiasm and interest in the club. Student leadership has been stressed this year in planning the activities such as the Christmas Saturnalia and Spring Banquet. The Saturnalia is an ancient Roman religious festival on the day which is now our Christmas. The Spring Banquet is given to initiate the new members of the club and to celebrate Roman life.

The International Club Explores The World

1985-86 marked the first year of the International Club. Founded by junior Amie Dutta and sponsored by Dr. Terry Brown, the purpose of the club is to promote awareness of international affairs and cultures. The club meets on Wednesday during workshop period to plan various interesting activities. This year, the club hosted speakers after school and on weekends on such subjects as South Africa and Hinduism. All students were invited to attend these sessions. The International Club had proved to be extremely beneficial in cultivating an interest in world affairs among Hockaday students.

Tu Tertulia, the Spanish honor society, started the year off strong doing something new: combining their "fiestas" with helping people in need. In the fall, they held a bakesale raising $150 to relieve the victims of Mexico's earthquake. At Christmas they brought toys to give to the Salvation Army. This year they also held a combined initiation ceremony with Entre Nous and Dux Femina Facti.

Oo La La! It's Entre Nous! Entre Nous, sponsored by Mrs. Cavitt, is a society that honors students who have excelled in the study of the French language for a minimum of two years. This year, Elizabeth Ostrow served as president. Under her direction, the society held several successful bakesales to help buy interesting French books for the students' use in the library.

Nucleus Sees the World in a Different Light

Nucleus, the honors club for students who excel in science has become an important part of the Hockaday community. The club honors students who have pursued their interests for three years with an academic average of a B+ or more. With the help of sponsor Dr. Mary Lynn Johnson nucleus has greatly rewarded academic excellence at Hockaday.

Der Palmenorden is the German honor society at Hockaday, honoring students with a semester average of a B+ or above. German is not offered at Hockaday, but it is available at St. Marks for their classes as a part of the Hockaday-St. Marks course opportunities program. With the help of co-presidents Susan McGinnis and Cary Grief, Der Palmenorden has spread enthusiasm for German throughout Hockaday.

Mu Alpha Theta is a national honor society for students who excel in mathematics. Girls in their fifth semester of higher mathematics who have maintained exemplary averages in their respective courses are eligible. Sponsored by Mrs. Ann Charlson and Mr. Thomas Hall, the club also plans many fun activities and dinners for its members. This year, Hockaday was fortunate to have a large number of girls as members of this honor society.

Quill and Scroll and Cum Laude

Quill and Scroll is a national honor society for girls who are involved in Hockaday's literary publications. The Ela Hockaday chapter was founded in the 1930's, and since that time it has remained the highest honor that members of the Cornerstones, Fourcast, and Vibrato may receive.

Quill and Scroll: (Left to right) First row: Katherine Bliss, Tamara Rorrie, Susan McGinnis. Second row: Betsie Tart, Sid Ellis

The members of the Cum Laude Society are respected and admired by the students at Hockaday. As always, this year's recipients are girls that have both ambition and high grades. Twice a year these girls at Hockaday are honored: once in the winter and again at the honors assembly at the end of the year. This year marked the fortieth anniversary of the tradition of recognizing those Hockaday girls that deserve the honor of induction into the Cum Laude Society.

Vibrato Values Creativity

Mr. Dumaine and the staff members admire the cover contest entrees.

The Vibrato staff is responsible for the production of Hockaday's literary magazine. Led by editor-in-chief Louise Redd and sponsor Mr. Dumaine, the staff encouraged students to submit artwork, poems, short stories, and photographs to be included in the 1986 Vibrato. Besides encouraging students to submit by posters, the staff also held its third annual cover contest. Says a staff member, "The beauty in the Vibrato is that it gives the Hockaday students a chance to show their creativity."

The Fourcast

The Fourcast provides an informative newspaper for the Upper School students, faculty, staff, and parents, as well as journalistic experience for students. Miss Roark, the Fourcast sponsor; Tamara Rorrie, the editor-in-chief; and Katherine Bliss, the co-editor; along with a talented staff, emphasized student achievements throughout the year. They also focused on providing interesting information for students, including clues for college. In addition, they mailed Fourcast issues to the parents this year to help the parents become more involved in the school's activities. Hosting bake sales each month helped finance this new project.

The 1986 Cornerstones

The 1986 Cornerstones is one of three publications that keeps the students, faculty and parents aware of the activities and organizations at Hockaday. The Cornerstones staff puts forth much effort in preparing the yearbook. With the help of Sponsor Mrs. Sharon Childs and the leadership of Editor-in-Chief Susan McGinnis and assistant editor Betsie Tart, the staffs are guided through the designing of the 400-page book. The staff has creativity and dedication, and they spend great amounts of time from September to March on organizing and planning the Cornerstones. A major goal of the Cornerstones staff is to keep an accurate account of memories from the previous year. Thanks to a consistent and devoted staff, the 1986 Cornerstones is the best yet.

The Karate Club Gets Their Kicks in 86'

Hockaday's Karate Club studies Okinawan Shorin Ryu. They work out three times a week. The club is led by sensei (instructor) Ms. Ilene Smoger and president Rula Sinnokrot. During workouts, the club improves upon style, two-person basics, and Kata. When a student has completed a stage, she is eligible for advance; she then takes an examination to complete her state. The 1986 Karate Club has become an important part of the Hockaday community.

The Montage Staff Soars in Video & Media

The Montage Staff creates and refines Hockaday's video magazine. The Montage was entered at the ISAS Fine Arts Festival; the magazine is under the leadership of Misty Thrash and Valerie Branyan, editors-in-chief. The 1986 Montage included various events, such as Hockaday musicals and many student-made videos.

The Triathalon Club Shapes Up

Hockaday's Triathalon Club is now in its second year. The club's goal is to promote physical fitness among Hockaday students. As members of the club, girls are required to workout three times a week in a triathalon area by swimming, biking, and/or running. In the spring they also sponsor a triathalon, consisting of four hundred yards of swimming, five miles of biking, and two miles of running. The Triathalon Club has been instrumental in promoting physical fitness and providing an alternative to after-school sports.

FINE ARTS

Hockaday — St. Marks S.R.O.

Under Milkwood, by Dylan Thomas, provided Hockaday and St. Marks actors with a unique challenge. Fourteen students portrayed over sixty different characters in the production, which depicts a day in a small Welsh fishing village. The stage was virtually bare of scenery; there were no separate acts, and the actors never left the stage. The plot revolves around the lives of the villagers and their relationships. This seemingly "off-the-wall" play provided valuable experience for the actors and unusual enjoyment for the audience.

Hockaday Choir Sings

Hockaday again joined forces with St. Marks to produce an outstanding Upper School choir. Under the direction of Mrs. Wetherington and Mr. Livengood, the group performed a wide variety of music. Small Ensemble, a select group of girls within the choir, worked on separate projects in addition to performing with the entire choir. The two groups proudly displayed their talents with carols in the Christmas chapel, a program at ISAS, and the spring musical.

Buster's Beauties Bop To The Beat

This year Dance Workshop danced its way into our hearts with incredible talent. This group consists of girls chosen for their talent in tap, jazz, and ballet. Buster Cooper again provided dazzling choreography for performances throughout the year. The dancers endured practices to transform the choreography and music into a beautiful illusion. Their talent was highlighted in the Christmas performance, the spring musical and ISAS.

Hockaday Artists Paint Their Way To Fame

1985-1986 was filled with enthusiasm both for Hockaday and the art department. Under the guidance of Mrs. Harrison, the art students splattered the hallways with their creativity — paintings, drawings, murals, collages, and much more. Hockaday's artists spent long hours in the art room: mixing paints, laying out ideas on canvas, putting the final touches on their masterpieces. In the end, their hard work paid off as they proudly displayed their works of art at ISAS and Hockaday Fine Arts festival.

Photographers Capture The Year With Pictures

In the darkroom and through the halls, Hockaday photographers successfully recorded the 1985-86 school year with their work. Beginning students learned the basics and worked on various projects incorporating art and design. They created photograms, developed film, and enlarged prints. Photojournalism students made contribution to both The Fourcast and Cornerstones by providing the pictures for each. The photographers excellent work was displayed in the halls of Hockaday and at ISAS this spring.

Ceramics Classes Create With Clay

Upper and Middle School ceramics students enjoyed a challenging year under the direction of Mr. Brady. Life size chairs were constructed from cardboard and three dimensional masks molded from paper maché. Students sculpted clay pieces and saw them through glazing and firing to a successful completion. The impressive results of their labors were displayed in exhibits around Hockaday and at ISAS .

Debate — There's No Stoppin' Us!

Hockaday debate took off with full force as Mrs. Walker guided the squad to victory. The year was filled with exciting events starting with tournaments in Dallas, then reaching out into the "big leagues" — Princeton and Harvard. This year's debaters were hard working girls who earned their merits, enduring endless hours devoted to preparation and practice. Many of the girls won numerous plaques and trophies for their achievements in prose, poetry, extemporaneous speaking, and oratory as well as in debate. Though the team had their share of hard work, it did not come without its rewards. As one debater put it, "Half the fun of debate is meeting new faces, making new friends, and just having the time of your life."

Thespian Stars Light Up the Stage

Hockaday and St. Marks students having exceptional talent in the performing arts are members of the Thespians. In order to qualify for membership in this respected national honor society, students must accumulate points earned in various projects. Members range from those who work backstage to those who act or direct. Without these gifted and dedicated Thespians, the drama productions of the two schools would never materialize.

Voice Students Hit New Highs

This year, Sharon Grahnquist introduced voice students to a broad spectrum of music, ranging from classical Italian to musical theater. After memorizing six to eight selections of varying style, the students concluded each semester with a judged performance. This year's events included a Baroque recital as well as an honors recital at Christmas. The girls' talent was showcased in the year's finale: a recital in full costume featuring songs from different musicals.

Piano Students Tune Up

Hockaday's outstanding piano department is a highly regarded branch of the school's fine arts program. Led by Mrs. Wilhite, Mrs. Kinney, and Mrs. Glenos, girls from preschool through the twelfth grade participate in weekly lessons and regular performances. Besides playing the prelude to each Upper School chapel, the students showcased their talents in a December baroque festival, a spring recital, and the annual ISAS Fine Arts Festival. The Texas State Theory Examination and the National Piano Guild auditions provided demanding college preparatory work and valuable experience for the girls.

Cross Country Sets A New Pace

With only three returning runners, this year's cross country team overcame its inexperience soon after the St. Mark's Invitational. New Coach Sheppard and captains Shona Simpson and Katherine Bliss helped train and encourage the team to a 2nd place victory at the M.I.S.C. conference and a 1st against Casady in Oklahoma. Despite their loss against Greenhill, the girls showed in this meet their remarkable improvements, for every runner brought her time down considerably. At SPC the girls proudly earned 5th place.

Volleyball Vies for Victory

This year's volleyball team could be characterized by two words: true winners. Throughout the season, they never lost a game and gained the admiration of all. Challenging St. Mark's, they secured an outstanding victory and by SPC, they had reached their goal of being a renowned powerhouse. Because of their unfortunate loss to FWCD in the North Zone competition, they ended up with 2nd in SPC, but they knew as did the other teams that they were truly the best.

Hockaday Hustles

This year's hockey team was a young one composed of only three returning members. Although starting off with uncertainty, by the end all were championship players. The team placed first in S.P.C.; but as there was a three-way tie, they received second because of their total number of goals. To the girls this was a disappointment; nonetheless, their record was commendable.

Basketball Shoots

The 1986 Basketball team consisted of a group of true athletes. Certainly, they were not amateurs, but rather girls whose skill and dedication made them the best team in their division. Throughout all of the S.P.C. tournament, they never lost a game, and they stood undefeated at the end of the season. Winning 1st place in both M.I.S.C. and S.P.C., their hard work finally paid off. With 2 girls earning 1st team, 2 earning 2nd, and 4 earning honorable mention, they left the S.P.C. tournament at Trinity Valley as the the most respected team. Coach Bradley and the girls were already looking forward to the 1987 season although they realized how much they would miss the seniors' skill and enthusiasm.

Soccer Heads

The 1986 season was one of triumph for the soccer team. However, the road to victory was not an easy one. There were many close games during the season such as a 1-0 victory over Holland Hall and there were a few losses. Even their loss to Ursuline showed the strength of the team as they scored on Ursuline for the first time in years. The team reached SPC in first place from Division I. The soccer girls struggled through a slim victory over Greenhill and St. Mary's and were set back by a 1-0 loss to Holland Hall. But in the end, preserverence won them the 1st place prize at SPC. The team will be losing 4 seniors who each won all-SPC honors; however, their future looks promising. The coming years should be just as victorious as this one.

Swimmers Make Waves

The 1985-1986 Varsity Swimming Team experienced one of its best seasons ever under the direction of Head Coach Barbie Power and Assistant Coach Brenda Knighton. Victories over rival teams from Plano East Senior High, Irving High and Trinity High School were good preparation in the Annual Trojan Invitational at Trinity in Euless. Twenty of the top swimming teams in the Southwest competed here. The 400 year freestyle relay consisting of Vicky McElhaney, Kelly McCracken, Muffi Bailey, and Jennifer Johnston qualified for the finals and placed 6th overall. The swimmers consistently improved their times. The season was fun and rewarding for the whole team. Good luck next year!

Not pictured: Mrs. Drill, sponsor.

This year the members of our Middle School Choirs performed at many assemblies and enlivened our chapels. In addition to singing at Hockaday, they also entertained several organizations in our community.

This year, the Middle School Cornerstones staff was carefully selected by the sponsor, Mrs. Childs. From twenty-two submitted layouts, sixteen girls were selected to be on the staff. This staff was responsible for taking the pictures and gathering the information used in the layouts in the Lower and Middle School sections of Cornerstones.

The 1985-86 Banner staff sponsored five contests throughout the school year. Middle School students entered creative poems, short stories, and drawings to be judged by the members of the staff. To conclude the year, a magazine of these entries was published for the enjoyment of all Middle School students.

As representatives of the Middle School, the 1985-86 Student Council worked hard to implement this year's theme, "Discover the Spirit in '85-'86." They accomplished their goal of contributing money to a charity almost every month. Throughout the year they sold Trick-or-Treat bags of candy for CMC and kiss-o-grams for other fund raising events.

Officers: First row: Nicole Ginsburg, secretary; Emily Loeb, treasurer; Second row: Channing Henry, vice-president; Mr. Abbondanzio, sponsor; Kindra Warnecke, president; Romy Cohen, chapel-liaison.

Middle School Happenings

The '85-'86 school year was definitely a success. Every month different activities were held to raise money for charity, including halloween treats, gobble-grams and bakesales. Also, we had many chapels and assemblies in which we were very fortunate to have many different speakers. Other events this year were: sixth grade trip to Williamsburg, seventh grade lock-in, and seventh and eighth grade green and white sports competition. middle school certainly discovered the spirit in '85-'86!

The Eighth Grade Presents:

Little Mary Sunshine takes place in the Colorado outdoors during the late 1800's. Little Mary's biggest problem is paying her mortgage to prevent the repossession of her inn. Her father figure is Chief Brown Bear, whose Indian son Fleetfoot is terrorizing the Colorado Mountains. At the end of the musical, Fleetfoot is caught by the captain of the noble forest rangers, Big Jim. Finally, General Oscar Fairfax awards Chief Brown Bear with a deed for one-quarter of the state of Colorado, which he divides between Little Mary and his newly-adopted son Billy Jester.

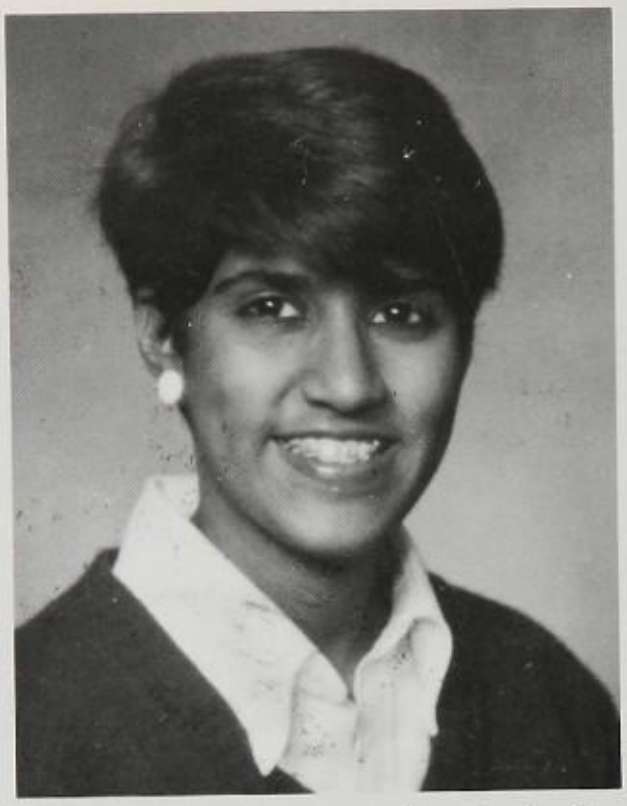
S E M E N T S

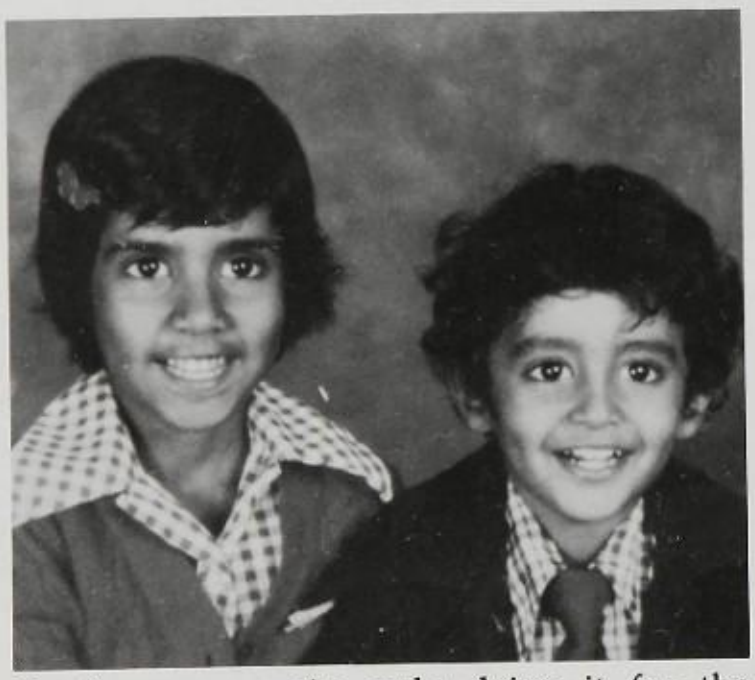
Where did everyone go?



Oh, no! I think my teeth are locked!

Watch the birdie?

Whatever it was, I didn't do it!



Don't worry, we're only doing it for the money!

Can we talk?

Excuse me, but can we play?

Why are you bothering me?

Mom, Ritu's at it again!

Congratulations — That's the way to go Rit.
You shine like sun and moon.
Love,
Mom, Dad, and Rishi

Shannon —

You are the greastest sister anyone could ever have. Thanks for always being there. I'll miss you next year!

Alma Doll

P.S. Take good care of Muffin!

Hey Loeb Kids!

Thanks for being the rest of the Loeb family. Ben — thanks for helping me with homework, telling me what's going on (experience-wise) remember: "everything is everything." Debbie — thanks for sometimes listening to KRQX with me on the way to school, letting me borrow clothes — remember: "smiling, and waving, and looking so fine." Phil — thanks for not banging up my guitar to bad and being such a rocker, needing music at such a young age. remember: "don't build a ramp outside my window" . . . I'll see you guys and you can come into my room.

I
Love
You,

To Nik

What a beautiful baby!
What a beautiful doll!
With your midnight blue eyes
And your winning smile,
You always got your way.

You were highly ingenuous
Creative and smart.
At the young age of five
You were selling your art
To all my friends.

Yet sensible and caring
You brought home many strays,
Later girlfriends, then parties
And phone calls night and day.
And then came Trey!

So you're all grown-up now
And I'm so very proud
To be your mother
And sit in the crowd
On this, your Graduation Day!

To my wonderful family —

I really don't know what to say except that I couldn't have made it without you.

You all have given me all the love and support that I have ever needed

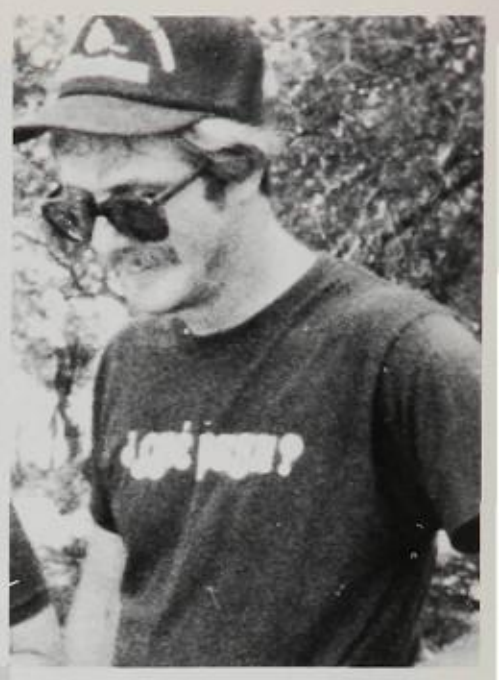
You've been a great big sis'!
Good Luck!
Love,
Susan

Kramer —
We hope we've kept you busy for 3 years. You may be amazed but not amused, but hey — that's life.



Really though, seriously — (what?) you've been a great advisor. Thanks
Love,

were so smart to fast forward the tape so that he thought we had watched it! Wasn't it funny when you came over the 1st time and all of the furniture from the playroom was every place else but the playroom! The rug was wet, too!

Our Dearest Cis . . .

As A baby girl you were loveable and sweet,
And all you did at first was sleep and eat.
But later on you laughed and cooed and did the cutest things . . .
You filled our days with all the joys a little daughter brings.

You grew up so fast before our eyes — before we knew it, you were a young lady. It's wonderful looking back on all the happiness we've known . . . but looking ahead is sweeter still, knowing that there will always be new happiness for all of us to share.

We are proud of you, Cis . . . for all your accomplishments and endeavors you have set out to do and achieved. If we could sit across from God, we would thank him for lending us you!!!

We love you,
Mom, Dad, & David

Thanks for escaping from Mike Cooley w/ me at the parties. I don't know how many pictures we took together! And he thought WE were strange! He needs to look at himself in the mirror. I really think that Mr. Perfect Dude is that the only reason

THANX FOR MAKING
OUR FRESHMAN YEAR
SO GREAT. GOOD
LUCK NEXT YEAR —
WE'LL MISS YOU!
WE LUV YOU,
JULIA AND JILL

Our darling sister Rachel
Oh, how the years have flown
From a pudgy, round baby
To a beauty queen you've grown.

Do you remember when you swang in the jolly jumper
The times I pushed you oh so high
And your main concern was supper?

Well your chubbiness has gone,
And you're no longer a little tike.
You have many concerns,
And his number one name is Mike.

Can you recall the family trips
To Padre, Hawaii, and Florida —
"Gonga," "Retard," and Mickey Mouse,
And how all the guys adored ya?

Well, I guess nothing really changes
You'll always be our star,
You still win all of the boys' hearts
Just because you are.

Congrats on your graduation
We're so very proud of you.
We know that you'll be a success
In everything you do.

Rachel, we want you to know
Just how much you're loved.
In a thunderstorm of turmoil
You'll always be the white dove.

Love,
Carrie, Eric, Alyssa and Sharon

We'll miss you, "Super Care!"
